Rokewood Wines is a family owned business based in the Great Southern wine region in Western Australia. The Otto family established their Rokewood vineyard in Mount Barker in 1998 to produce premium cool climate wines for the Australian domestic market. The "Rokewood" label comes from a stencil found on the property which was used in earlier days for the Rokewood apples grown in the original orchard.

Cabernet Sauvignon 2004

- Colour: Deep and vibrant red colour.
- Nose: Spicy berry and cassis fruits backed by dusty and cedary characters.
- Palate: Lively palate with rich berry fruits providing great front palate richness. A hint of earthiness gives complexity and the wine has a satisfying finish due to having a good balance of tannin and acidity.
- Cellaring: Enjoy now or over the next four years.

Cabernet Sauvignon 2004 Reserve

- Colour: Deep red colour.
- Nose: Blackberry fruits, spice and vanilla oak characters provide a complex bouquet.
- Palate: Rich yet elegant Cabernet. The palate shows blackcurrant fruit backed by powerful oak which provides dusty characters. There is good tannin structure to support the oak and provide a long finish to the wine.
- Cellaring: This wine can be enjoyed now and will continue to develop for the next eight years.
